The education system is not a homogenous monolith. It is porous and multilayered. Students from multiple backgrounds seek success in the world of academics by investing their time and resources. Hence, it becomes obligatory for an educator to nurture their talents and enlighten their minds. We at Integral University have devised teaching methods that are comprehensive and wholesome. We primarily focus on developing emotional ecology between the teachers and the students. The pedagogical apparatus at Integral University is based on emotional ecology that facilitates the learning experience. We bond with young learners by means of an entirely promethean zeal to illuminate their academic lives. The alumni community and their alma mater share a symbiosis that meliorates both. The Alumni Welfare Association's magazine further galvanizes this bond. I convey heartfelt congratulations to the entire Integral family, Alumni Welfare Association and the alumni community for making this magazine a success.

Human existence is not just about living la dolce vita, but it is also about the ups/downs, and success/failures that one faces in life. Campus life is a miniature form of the life at large. Students tend to face all sorts of difficult situations under the controlled environment on the campus. This prepares them for the life outside the safe zone wherein they'll have to face real situations and deal with tough circumstances. The AWAIU is all eyes and ears over it because of which it organizes interaction programmes of its alumni who come along with their experiences of the outside world and narrate it to the present students as also counsels them to make appropriate career choices. The Alumni Magazine (Kaleidoscope) proves a benison for the students of IU as it gives a sneak peek into the lives of the alumni of IU; not to mention that these alumni are also on a lookout for a chance to connect with their alma mater.

The lightly stirred eddies of solidarity keep moving as the alumni interact with the current students of the university. The alumni magazine fills the discursive space between the alumni and their alma mater with utmost sincerity. Our alumni are like the beaming stars in the cobalt firmament of Integral University. The present student community feels deeply indebted to the alumni for their expert guidance and perennial inspiration.

HON'BLE CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Prof. S.W. Akhtar

Chancellor and Founder
Integral University, Lucknow

Integral University sprung as a minuscule and gradually metamorphosed into a globally acclaimed academic giant. This transformation resembles the extraordinary art of papier-mâché that turns paper pulp into awe striking artifacts. The inception of Techno Academic School created a butterfly effect in the field of academia. To this day it has created a multitude of professionally sound Engineers, Doctors, Bureaucrats, Entrepreneurs, Civil Servants, Architects, Academicians, Scientists, Business Tycoons, and so on.

During the hellacious phase of the pandemic the latest edition of Alumni Magazine whips that feeling of apricity which soothes us. As our alumni move across latitudes to scale new heights, this magazine chronicles their valuable stories and experiences. I am exuberated to bestow upon the alumni my passionate regards for embracing new targets and dreams. The alumni community has enriched their alma mater and sprouted new strategies for mutual growth.

Integral university has exhibited phenomenal zeal in serving the nation during the pandemic. The alumni community of Integral University showed solidarity in performing charitable acts from all the corners of the world. They defied the cartographic divisions to unite in the cause of providing selfless services to the underprivileged. This stupendous feat of Integral University is a mammoth contribution towards nation-building. The philanthropic spirit of the alumni is an outstanding contribution towards the society.

Integral University also serves as an oasis of knowledge for foreign students from various countries. This university privileges the students with finest resources to hone their skills and create individuals who embolden the intellectual community globally.

The boundless energy and the humanitarian gusto of the Alumni Welfare Association of Integral University must also be duly addressed at this juncture as the fourth addition of the alumni magazine is successfully launched.

I end this message with the eternally profound words of G.B. Shaw—

“Life isn't about finding yourself.
Life is about creating yourself.”

HON'BLE PRO-CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Dr. Syed Nadeem Akhtar

Pro-Chancellor

Integral University, Lucknow

The Alumni Welfare Association of Integral University (AWAIU) is working with verve and assiduity in envisaging to bridge the gap between the University's past, present and future in the context of its students— in which it is reaching new heights of success with each passing day. Integral University wishes all its students to reach apotheosis in their life and career, entrusting them with the task of not just being intellectual torch bearers and role models for others but also to leave an imprint on the minds of people with their versatile personalities through the display of their creative skills. These skills combined together have made our students all rounders. It can also be seen when they have moved out of their mould a.k.a. University through the myriad events that have been constantly taking place here in the form of interactions of alumni with the students and faculty of their respective departments.

I feel elated in seeing the fervor with which our alumni are coming back to reunite with us. Because of this, our alumni chapters are opening in various corners of the world, beginning with Dubai and Qatar. Next in line are the Delhi and UK chapters. It was rightly said by Ben Sasse in this context, "An institution of higher education is a partnership among students and alumni, faculty and administrators, donors and trustees, neighborhoods and more, to build a community - and a culture."

I would like to extend my wishes to all the alumni of IU and would like to invite them to associate more strongly with their alma mater and become partners in the growth of the University.

FROM THE DESK OF VICE-CHANCELLOR

My dear alumni of Integral university, I have recently assumed the charge of the Vice Chancellor of this prestigious university and feel privileged to be a part of the Integral family. Indeed, your alma mater in a short span of time has exhibited phenomenal growth and ascended as one of the premier institutions of higher education in the country, which largely focuses on imparting quality education, training and research in diverse fields viz. STEM Commerce & Management, Liberal arts & Humanities, Law, Nursing and Medicine. With the changing global educational scenario, the horizons of professional pursuits are expanding and offer enormous scope to the students and faculty to unlock the flairs and attain greater heights of success.

Undoubtedly, there are many challenges ahead as the educational system is becoming more competitive. The dynamics of the fast-changing education domain beseech the academicians to give the right impetus to transform the ordinary students to life-long learners and future architects of nation. You will feel proud to know that the well qualified faculty and trained staff of the Integral university is dedicated to engender all-round development of our students, and to kindle their intrinsic creativity, talent and scholarship. We at Integral university, nurture and ignite the fertile minds for their professional and personal success, and are committed to create responsible citizens as an epitome of ethics, social and moral values of high order.

Integral University extends an open invitation to alumni to visit their beloved alma mater and reunite with peers' and teachers, who have navigated them to carve a niche and begot transformation in their life. Revisiting campus will surely take them down the memory lanes and reminisce the past scholastic journey to the astounding educational and research-intensive ecosphere of Integral campus. I am sure that alumni will feel privileged and enchanted with the surroundings and academic ambience on being closely associated with their alma mater as an important stakeholder and integral member of university fraternity.

At the end, I would like to wish the Alumni Welfare Association, Integral university for the tireless efforts in publishing the Annual Alumni Magazine-2021. This will certainly help in strengthening the networking and strong connection of Alumni Welfare Association at Integral University, Lucknow with more than 35,000 alumni all across the globe.

Best wishes for all success in your endeavors.

FROM THE DESK OF PRO VICE-CHANCELLOR

"Without craftsmanship, inspiration is a mere reed shaken in the wind."

The above quotation by Johannes Brahms speaks about practical knowledge and skills. Every institution must teach its students the skills required to succeed in their respective fields. Inspiration and motivation are the first steps through which Integral University waters the plants it sows. These plants, in turn, grow and return to their roots to give back what they received. I feel immense pride in stating that the alumni of Integral University are becoming huge trees, not just plants, who are full of love and admiration for their alma mater, and are coming back to it to share their experiences with the University fraternity every now and then.

My blessings are with AWAIU for bringing out Kaleidoscope — the annual magazine — which gives us a glimpse of the achievements of our alumni.

FROM THE DESK OF REGISTRAR

I am extremely delighted and overwhelmed to know that Alumni Welfare Association of Integral University (AWAIU) is going to publish its "Alumni Magazine", which provides a source of information and highlights the achievements and accomplishments of revered alumnus. The mandate of AWAIU is to provide an opportunity for its members to foster, by their own participation, those programs and undertakings which will contribute to their personal growth and overall development and to the development, prestige and advancement of the Integral University as well. Equally important is the fostering of social, cultural and business relationships among alumni and friends. AWAIU in partnership with others and with the active involvement of alumni and friends, is fostering pride and the subsequently enhancing the University's reputation through communication, the celebration of success, and the development of lifelong relationships with graduates, past, present and future.

AWAIU is fulfilling its aim to preserve and develop solidarity and exchange between former students. Regular events, an annual Homecoming, a growing number of alumni chapters in more and more cities around the world, an intranet with forums, profiles, and job offers, an Alumni Fund for organizing various activities, and many other opportunities for participation provide added value for Integral University's alumni and the entire campus community. This has certainly given rise to a broad, multicultural, international social network based on a common foundation. I find myself lucky in contributing and giving back to the place that gave me so much. My best wishes to the Integral University Alumni Association, which is working tirelessly in reaching out to its alumni, who in fact represent the university as our brand ambassadors.

I am delighted to know that the Alumni Welfare Association of Integral University (AWAIU) is coming up with yet another edition of its flagship magazine “Kaleidoscope”, which connects its alumni with each other and shares the achievements and success stories of its proud alumni, both nationally as well as internationally. The Alumni Association, which is now a registered body has transformed into an important centre in providing career counseling and motivational lectures by its eminent alumni, who have attained great heights in their respective fields and are carrying forward the traditions of the university.

AWAIU has been playing an important role in reaching out to our alumni through its mission to connect and communicate. Er. Mazid Ali

President, Qatar Chapter

I am greatly inspired and indebted to my alma mater for feeding me the best Engineering education and valuable skills. Being a student of Integral University has been an enduring investment, aiming towards a new zenith of achievements. Throughout my college years, I have focused on learning and shaping myself to be proficient, from the best professors and capable instructors. Integral University furnished me with a solid academic foundation and skills which are essential for my current responsibilities. I am highly grateful to Integral University's Management, Professors and Staff for their cumulative support throughout the four years of my graduation. Their support is not only limited to the University campus, but also in the Alumni Association in Qatar. For all my fellow juniors, these are the golden days of your life. The lessons of today are going to shape you into the best form you can be tomorrow.

Er. Babar Khan

A heartfelt welcome to all the alumni and students of IU, I am greatly delighted to address you through Qatar chapter, Alumni Welfare Association of Integral University, Doha, Qatar. As General Secretary of the Alumni Association, I consider it an honour to welcome you all to this alumni portal. It is indeed my sincere yearning to bring the alumni closer through this medium, and I truly believe that Qatar chapter will reconnect all of us. We wish to nurture a rich culture among the alumni which leads to building a strong and connected alumni network.

Er. Mohd Farzan

Treasurer, Qatar Chapter

I am delighted to share my thoughts at this point. My Engineering course kicked-off in an unusual way; however, the University was so reassuring and welcoming that everything worked out immaculately. This is where I earned satisfactory grades, where I met so many wonderful people while making unforgettable memories. It wasn't only the education excellence from the professors but proper guidance from the academic advisors. I wouldn't possibly be where I am today without those "Eight Semesters" of hardship, fun, failure and success. I will not be able to change things quickly as I have a large geographical area to explore. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the professors of the Department of Civil Engineering for their tremendous support. The freshmen, sophomore and the seniors – every aspect of your college life is essential. The quality education at Integral University will improve your self-worth, and help you accomplish things that matter the most. Best wishes to you all for a prosperous future.

At the very outset I would like to express my exuberant thanks to the Integral family. I extend warm regards to my department, the Department of Civil Engineering, which has helped me greatly in my success.

My experience at this temple of learning was very different and has led me to explore and learn new things in terms of personal and professional aspects. Various co-curricular activities encouraged my confidence and leadership skills. Attending the cultural fest, FIESTA was always a memorable experience which helped me to understand my potential and participate in numerous activities. The aura of the University has always been positive and has motivated us to pursue our dreams.

The cordial relationship between the faculty and the students has helped me and other students to excel on the professional fronts. My academic life has been enriched by the student-friendly atmosphere of Integral university.

I will always be grateful to IU for giving me a multi-dimensional learning experience.

Er. Mohd. Nehal

The skills that I gained while at IU helped me a lot as an engineering student and help me still as an Engineer, I have always been quite shy and timid, but the time I spent at this institute whipped me into shape, somewhat IU taught me to have confidence in myself and go for what I want, not just academically but socially too. I am full of gratitude to my alma mater, Integral University for all that it has provided me, and for what it has made me. I'm where I am solely because of the knowledge gained at the University and due to the values it inculcated in me. My sincere advice for the newbies of IU is that they must prioritize their tasks that they'll get in future what they'll yearn for at this stage. Secondly, they must always be ready to face new challenges and concentrate on practical things.

Dr. Shreya Goel

B.Tech Biotechnology
Class of 2010
Assistant Professor Department of Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Chemistry at the University of Utah, USA

Shreya (B.Tech Biotechnology, batch of 2010) is currently working as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Chemistry at the University of Utah, USA. Prior to that she was a Research Investigator at MD Anderson Cancer Center and completed her Ph.D. in Materials Science and Engineering from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Shreya's research program focusses on the use and development of molecular imaging and nanobiotechnology tools to refine the way we visualize, treat and manage cancer and other diseases. Her lab (<https://imagingnano labs.com/>) implements cutting-edge technologies, with the goal to: 1) enable biology-guided modulation of the disease microenvironment to convert non-responders to responders, and 2), guide rational design of effective and innovative therapies; which are poised to have an outstanding impact on biological and medical sciences. So far, she has published > 60 papers in journals such as Science Advances, ACS Nano, Advanced Materials, Journal of Nuclear Medicine, Nano Letters, among others. She has won multiple fellowships and awards for her scholarship and research. Most recently, she was named among the SNMMI Ones to Watch list, which recognizes 30 early career researchers worldwide with the potential to shape the fields of nuclear medicine and molecular imaging. Among her other academic activities, she serves as an Associate Editor for the Journal of Nanobiotechnology (Impact Factor: 10.4), reviewer for multiple journals, international conferences and grants agencies, is actively involved with different molecular imaging societies in various capacities, and is passionate about mentoring students from diverse backgrounds. Shreya firmly believes that – It is better to live your own life imperfectly, than to live an imitation of someone else's perfectly. You have one life, do not waste it living someone else's dream. When you do what you love, it becomes easier to persevere in the face of adversity. So, find what you love, and remain committed to your growth, your dreams, your passion, whatever that may be. And in the end, the dots will connect.

A successful outcome, a fulfilling journey, a life-changing experience... Those are the stories being written by students and alumni of Integral University every day. The leaders of tomorrow don't just choose IU for quality education, they are here to make a difference, and create their own chapter in history.

Few years ago, Mohammed Nayeem landed his dream job as Food Safety Auditor with NSF International, Michigan, USA and travelled 7 Asian countries to explore the food safety practices in Asia and North Africa. As someone who is passionate about food and the environment, he made it his goal to work in this sector.

His advice to new students of Integral University is to develop good learning habits as early as possible. "IU provides opportunities to acquire life skills, but students need to take them seriously. Developing good habits early is essential for success at higher level of education and the work place." Despite many accolades, Nayeem has no plan to curtail his work or his ambition. "I have great drive and ambition for never-ending growth and want to be able to separate the money from the drive. My goal is always to be better than I was a year ago and contribute to my community more than what I did last year" he said. Nayeem has a strong desire to collaborate with Integral University to extend his efforts towards job placement and personality development programs for the students.

I am thankful to Integral University because it gave me joyful and unforgettable college days. It allowed me to gain experience from some of the best teachers, gave me the chance to enhance my inner potential, and introduced me to new friends. It is because of the University that I developed more confidence, received a lot of knowledge, and came across amazing people, who turned out to be my friends. IU showed me that the world is full of possibilities. Its curriculum gave me a life skill that I will always treasure. Today, being successful I realize the importance of following their guidance and advice that led me to this respectable position. I thank every mentor from the bottom of my heart for never letting me down. I will always appreciate their efforts. I am really blessed to have such teachers and mentors in my life from whom I learned a lot and implemented those advice to make my future bright. My experience at INTEGRAL UNIVERSITY has taught me one fundamental thing – life is unpredictable. It might be good, it might be bad, it might be weird, and it might not interest you, but apart from all this, it's a perfect blend of joy and hardships. You meet different people, you interact with them, you learn about their cultures and grow as a person. Dear Juniors, always believe in yourself. You have the ability to do any kind of work whatever it might be, easy or tough. Just be confident and work hard to achieve your goals and try to learn from every little thing & always remember that no one could be wiser than you. You are certainly going to succeed in your life just remember the lessons learnt at this University.

It is impossible to guarantee anything, All you can do is to calculate the possibilities. My life seems to revolve around this idea. Coming from a group of students who never had a plan, I have lived my life applying for medical and law schools. Regardless of the weather or whether or not my prior knowledge supported a decision, I have always calculated and updated my possibilities according to what new information I have obtained. One example is that I applied for the BUMS medical course, as well as other courses related to medical care in Delhi and NCR. As a child, all I knew was that I wanted to do science because I felt miserable doing anything else.

Fortunately, I came to Lucknow after my father was transferred to the ministry of science. I enrolled at Integral University for my civil diploma course. My passion for engineering didn't start at birth, but I gradually learned and gained knowledge. I currently work for Hyundai Engineering & Almuftah group Qatar and I am pursuing a PhD in environmental engineering. I was an average student in the University, but one day our HOD Shadab sir told me to focus on myself, or else i will land nowhere. After that, I decided to pursue something different. Since getting my diploma, I have been working as well as studying simultaneously to boost my career and degree, because I believe that without a degree you are nothing, and without knowledge also you are nothing. As a quality health safety environment engineer (QHSE), I am working in the oil & gas industry from past 6 years. It was an honor to study at Integral University and to learn such wonderful things.

I am very thankful to all my teachers as they are the reason after Almighty for what I am now. Integral University's days are unforgettable and have the most contribution in my career, beside the regular course, through its seminars, sport activities, and festivals. What strengthens this relation is an exceptional desire to be always connected with Integral University by any mean or mode, and my wish is to give my department and faculty members my time, respect, and support.

World today requires solutions which are easy to implement, can be implemented indigenously, focus on the masses and are futuristic. We should focus on constantly upskilling ourselves, be better at task management and be willing to take that extra step in order to show our willingness to serve. There are numerous opportunities opening up in the digital world, so keep learning so that newer opportunities open up for you each day. All the very best for your future!

Learning is a never ending process and the one who keeps learning, keeps growing. Once we have worked in a specific domain for some years we ought to set ourselves in our comfort zone, any change then makes us vulnerable. If you realize that this is happening then that is the red signal to stop, think and set the ball rolling for a change. Never stay in your comfort zone, keep looking out for learning something new, challenging your own boundaries, this will make you stronger, smarter and future ready. Remember to learn, unlearn, relearn and then apply, meaning you should always be ready to break your notions and upgrade yourself with the latest things in the market. Best wishes for your future!

Thank you for giving me the ability to look forward, something that used to scare me. In fact, the unknown has always been a real fear for me. I like having a plan and knowing what the future holds, but you taught me that sometimes the best surprises in life are well, surprises. Some opportunities can't be planned. So thank you for giving me the strength and confidence to be bold to take those opportunities when they arose. Thank you for giving me the courage to face the fear of failure. Believe me, I have experienced my fair share of failures. Now I understand that failure is not something to be ashamed of, but should be celebrated because that means I tried, and I know how to improve next time. Thank you for giving me the positive and optimistic atmosphere you offered to help me grow. Never did I feel alone or unimportant to you. I would like to inform the alumni and the present students of IU about Pharmacovigilance, and a Technical Career. A career in Pharmacovigilance is exciting with a well defined career path. The growth is fast which eventually leads to managerial and director roles with good pay packages. Abbreviated as PV or PhV, Pharmacovigilance is the science relating to the detection, assessment, understanding and prevention of adverse effects, particularly long term and short term side effects of medicines. Generally speaking, it is the science of collecting, monitoring, researching, assessing and evaluating information from healthcare providers and patients on the adverse effects of medications, biological, herbalism and traditional medicines with a view to: Identifying new information about hazards associated with medicines Preventing harm to the patients. Pharmacovigilance is a great career option for life science pharmacy graduates and CS/IT graduates. It is a scientific discipline that is primarily concerned with reporting and analyzing of drug side effects. But in recent times with emerging of domain in India and across the world, there is a very high demand of CS/IT professionals in the market providing exceptional economical growth and learning new technologies to enhance your skill set. In India, there are many companies providing technical services and building new software's for Core PV companies like Novartis, Cognizant, Tata Consultancy Services, Quintiles, Ultragenic Research Technologies Private Limited and more. These companies are evolving with new technologies like Cloud Computing, Machine Learning and Artificial Intelligence to innovate and provide new paradigm to IU industry.

To Integral University and my fellow students, As an alumnus, I believe I've spent a lot of time looking back at what I have learned from Integral University, and for good reasons I feel blessed to have experienced that. What an exciting journey, those five years have been. With late night study groups in the hostel, early morning sessions to finish assignments, and the feeling of pure happiness after turning in an assignment that took forever to finish. Reminiscing on the good, and even the bad times, is a beautiful, often bittersweet experience. But something that I learned from Integral University that was not in the curriculum was the ability to look forward, something that scares almost everyone. In fact, the unknown is not something to be feared but to be excited about. Not everything can be planned and surprises are often better than we expect. Some opportunities can't be planned. So thank you for giving me the courage to be bold and take those opportunities when they arose. Thank you for pushing me and believing in me. Thank you for not letting me hold myself back for the fear of failure. Not all results came back with flying colours and not all assignments were straight 'A's. Now I understand that failure is not something to be ashamed of but are opportunities for us to grow and skill up. What a wonderful community Integral University has offered to help thousands of students to grow and feel important. Thank you for holding me accountable, in more ways than one. Thank you for teaching me what "business casual" is and how much work it is to organise an event. Thank you for my confidence both as a student and as a valuable member of the society. Thank you for teaching me how to be a leader and a follower. Thank you for the memories you have given me. If I could go back to the very first day I arrived at the campus and stand next to the boy who was me, I would envy him, as he is about to begin the most exciting journey of his life. And certainly, I wouldn't ask him to change a thing.

This is true for any career option which you choose, you have to be sincere towards your work. Please value the hard owned money and emotions of your parents as it is very tough for them to keep their children away from them just for the sake of studies. Please value every single second of your's and make judicious use of it as it won't come back. Thank you and all the best for your future endeavours.

In Memoriam

"Life is brief, but love is long" - Alfred Lord Tennyson

Our hearts are burdened as the entire AWAIU team eulogizes the departed souls who transcended the barriers of life this year. As we meditate on their accomplishments we solemnly hope that the aggrieved families are able to bear their loss with patience. To quote Henry David Thoreau, "Every blade in the field, every leaf in the forest, lays down its life in its season as beautifully as it was taken up."
